WHY BE INVOLVED? President Kim Dhority

Do you every get tired of people saying “Get Involved” in your professional organization? Did you ever ask yourself why? I am a firm believer the more you can be involved in your community, your school and yes...your professional organization... the better teacher you will be. Let’s look at the top 10 reasons listed for joining a professional networking organization (Like National Business Education Association (NBEA), Mountain-Plains Business Education Association (MPBEA) and Kansas Business Education Association (KBEA)).

1. Broaden Your Knowledge: Between the three organizations there are three fantastic conferences filled with a variety of workshops. Both NBEA and KBEA offer a variety of webinars free of charge on different technical areas....you only have to be a member.
2. Take Charge of Your Career: There are thousands of teaching resources out there. These three organizations give you links to resources that can be available to you. These organizations are also great resources as you look for other jobs and/or job listings.
3. Build a Better R  sum  : Being in a professional organization builds on your existing r  sum  . If you go a step further and become an officer in one of those organizations it gives you another step on that resume. This also helps to solidify friendships and business partners you would not have without doing that. In my years on the board, I have gained a multitude of friendships and business partners that I can call on for advice, help with a student problem or just to socialize.
4. Enhance your Network: We all tell our students you need to network to build your portfolio and gain job possibilities. We need to do this also and these organizations give you the opportunity to do this across the nation, across the middle of the country and especially in your own state.
5. Be a Leader: There are all sorts of possibilities to lead in this organization. All levels are always looking for people to step into those roles. This gives you the possibility to learn more, gain more friendships and help build the organization to be the best it can be.

6. Become a Mentor: There are new teachers entering the business education field now more than any time in my 40 years in the business. These folks need those of us that have been around the barn a few times to get that good start. By being a part of these organizations and encouraging those new teachers to be a part of the organization helps build that foundation. And believe it or not....we “oldies” can gain from that association also.

7. Make a New Friend: These three organizations give you an opportunity to meet people in your same profession and build relationships that will last a life time. Being actively involved gives you more opportunity to meet more people across the state and nation.

8. Give Back to the Teaching Community: By being involved in NBEA, M-PBEA and KBEA it gives you the opportunity to give back to its members. This can be done by presenting information to other members in areas that you have strengths in. You can also do this by building the mentoring for new teachers. By being an officer at the different levels it gives you the opportunity to give service back to the organization.

9. Strength in Numbers: In this time of craziness with school funding, it is good to have the backing of all educators. It is vitality important that we show we are a united front and we support each other. What better way of doing that than with an organization that is built around what we teach. There is also sharing of legislative information in all three levels of this organization. Every level has officer positions that deal with legislation. Use this information to build on your knowledge and to protect your career.

10. Stay Inspired and Stay Motivated: Last but certainly not least stay inspired and stay motivated by building off the other member’s enthusiasm. On those days that you aren’t sure why you do what you do, lean on the friendships that you have built in this organization. I communicate either through email, Twitter or Facebook with my counterparts in other parts of the state and/or country on a daily basis..... sometimes just to say “are we making it?” there is always a “you bet we are!!”

11. I know I said ten but there is also the benefit of liability insurance ($250,000 professional liability insurance) as part of your national membership, printed (and non-printed) resources, a huge awards program and many other benefits.

So join, be active and reap the benefits!!!

New York City: A WISE! Choice President-Elect Sherry Wiesen

As I was searching online for some help in my personal finance class, I ran across the WISE (Working in Support of Education) resources. As I signed up, I was given access to a booklet full of resources to use. There was also a certification test my students could take to become certified in Financial Literacy areas of: Money / Money Management / Personal Financial Planning, Banks & Banking, Credit, Insurance & Investing.

I had given the test one time in the spring and was preparing for my second year of using the resources and the test, when I was given a wonderful opportunity. This opportunity included training with teachers from across the US in New York City for one week in July of 2016 using the WISE resources.

As I was attending the Foundations in Wichita in June, I found out the WISE resources were tying into the Geni Revolution as the assessment for this. Now I was very excited to be going to NYC in July!

Last summer, I spent my week in New York City working with the WISE group to become certified to teach using the resources for my students to become WISE certified. The workshop was free; the only cost was getting there and a place to stay. I could not give up a chance to go to NYC again. I spent Monday through Thursday all day working with other business and FACS teachers from across the U.S. We studied the different areas of personal finance and then on Thursday we took the test for certification. The test consists of four areas: Money / Money Management / Personal Financial Planning, Banks & Banking, Credit, Insurance & Investing.

This information has worked very well as I have given the WISE certification three times; once before I went to New York and twice since I have been back. Of the 13 students that have taken the test, all have passed but two.

One of the students that had passed the test, placed it on his résumé. He came back and told me he received the job he was wanting and his boss was impressed with the certification which he holds. This is something which is worth looking into for your students.

2017 KBEA CONFERENCE SCHEDULE

Sunday, October 1

Sunday, October 1		BYOD Room	Room 1	Room 2
2:00 PM	Board Meeting
5:00-5:45	Breakout session		Finance Roundtable Michelle Bruna, Facilitator	What is the Kansas Center for Career &amp; Technical Education Greg Belcher &amp; Kelley Manley The KCCTE provides many professional development opportunities to CTE teachers within the state of Kansas. Come and see how this center can benefit you!
5:00-6:45	BYOD	Formal &amp; Informal Assessment Using Technology Denise Parr Who likes to grade? Sure it gives you the real view of how your students are doing, but if technology can assist with this, why not? For this session, I will specifically look at 4 free tools I use in class to either formally or informally assess my student's progress. Be prepared to take an assessment or two yourself to see how the student uses these tools.
6:00-6:45	Breakout session		Creating a Beneficial Business Communication Class Barbara Railsback Business Communications is one of the "required" courses in the revised Business Management & Entrepreneurship KSDE pathway. This session will provide attendees with ideas for assignments and activities for the business communications classroom. A part of the discussion will also include how various CTSO events are integrated into the business communications classroom. Dr. Railsback has taught business communications, a required course for all seniors at Rock Hills High School, for the past four years and previously taught it on-line and in a traditional classroom at Emporia State University.	Developing College &amp; Career Readiness Through Professional Learning Experiences Melinda Rangel Professional learning experiences are the key to helping students develop college and career readiness. These experiences allow students to see careers first-hand and make decisions regarding their career interests and future plans. This session will provide attendees with the steps to implement professional learning experiences in the form of one-day career shadows and internships. Student and employer evaluations, student conduct rules, rubrics, and other documents will be shared that will allow a school to immediately implement a program.

Randy Watson
Kansas Commissioner of Education

The Commissioner is the appointed Chief Administrative Officer over the Kansas State Department of Education. The Kansas Department of Education is organized into two divisions, Fiscal and Administrative Services and the Learning Services Division.

2017 KBEA CONFERENCE SCHEDULE

Monday, October 2

7:30 - 8:30 Registration

8:30 - 9:45 Opening session by Dr. Randy Watson

9:45-10:00 Exhibitor Break

10:00-10:45	Breakout session		Marketing Roundtable Scott Jones, Facilitator	Overview of the College and Career Competency Framework Joni Clark-Leiker and Jodi Grover This presentation will share how The College and Career Competency Framework, developed by Drs. Gaumer Erickson and Noonan, supports educators in systematically embedding intrapersonal, interpersonal, and cognitive competencies into course content. In this way, educators support students to develop into career-equipped, lifelong learners who are socially and emotionally engaged. The College and Career Competency Wheel includes 26 specific competencies categorized in three domains. Each competency is integral to in-school and post-secondary success, and addresses the Kansas Vision.
10:00-11:45	BYOD	Testing and Certification Logan Staab With over 5,000 Microsoft Office Specialist Certifications being earned by Kansas students, the Microsoft Imagine Academy is beyond successful. Join us for a session where we will discuss implementing certification into your classroom, recognizing success and how you can certify yourself and students! The Microsoft Imagine Academy is from the Kansas Board of Regents (KBOR) and the Kansas Legislature with support from the Kansas State Department of Education (KSDE).
11:00-11:45	Breakout session		Entrepreneurship &amp; Management Roundtable Natalie Clark, Facilitator	Customizing Your IPS Dashboard Joni Clark-Leiker and Jodi Grover What happens when your dashboard gauges light up? aka (Not enough options to meet every student's Individual Plan of Study). This session will focus on identifying resources and opportunities to assist students in career exploration, access to online career and technical courses (dual credit) from across Kansas, professional learning experiences, and related topics. Come join us to gain ideas of how to customize your dashboard for the success of each student.

11:45-1:00 Lunch

- Check out the above table: four hands-on sessions, five round table discussions and twelve breakout sessions.
- Randy Watson will be our opening speaker Monday morning.
- We will also have an awards luncheon with a business meeting.
- Refer to the website to see all the sessions and information about the hotel.

1:00-1:15 Break

1:15-2:00	Breakout session		Hospitality Management Round Table Barbara Railsback, Facilitator	KSDE Business Education Update Natalie Clark This session will provide a KSDE update of the Business Clusters: Business Management and Administration, Finance, and Marketing. A new Job Shadow Toolkit and Employability Skills Framework will be reviewed.
1:15-3:00	BYOD	H.O.T. Web Tools Jessica Crabtree and Kim Dhority Come experience free web tools that HOT. That is handy, outstanding and time saving!
2:15-3:00	Breakout session		Personal Finance Without a Text Michelle Bruna This session will provide lessons used in a senior government economics class about personal finance. The class was a semester long and used real documents such as a car loan and apartment lease to teach personal finance skills. No text was used. Google Classroom use will be addressed.	Please Connect the Brain: Resources for Changing Student Need Denise Gilligan Modern technology has made "research" quick, easy, and remarkably fast compared to the days of microfiche; but unfortunately the process of verification and quality has not kept up. In the age where "Google" is both a noun and a verb, how do we guide students to the best resources? One new trend is Libguides and when well designed, they can direct students in a way that meets their expectations. Flint Hills Technical College has been developing a Career Consortium Libguide that connects High School students to the resources they need for our CEP and CTE courses. This session will introduce you to FHCTC's libguide collection and other similar resources.
3:15-4:00	Breakout session		Arts, AV and Communication Round Table Denise Parr, Facilitator	Federal Reserve Gigi Wolfe

3:15-5:00	BYOD	Got an Itch? Just SCRATCH It! Lori Henneberg In this session we will design a video game using the web app - SCRATCH, designed by students at MIT. We will talk about how this interactive and hands-on program can be used not only to teach game design, but can also be used with many Cross-Curricular classes and lessons. Participants will come away with basic coding skills to use in designing games, as well as lesson plans and assessment tools that can be used when teaching with this program. This session will be helpful to those who are brand new in game design as well as those who have been teaching this for a while.
4:15-5:00	Breakout session		Get Started with Community Engagement Scott Jones This session will focus on an upcoming event (November 3) that will challenge students to participate in community activities focused on promotion of entrepreneurship and financial literacy. While this activity is sponsored by Kansas DECA, schools who do not have a DECA Chapter are encouraged to participate!	Project Management using PMI Toolkit and Microcredential Clelia McCrory Kansas students are learning skills such as time management, organization and planning through real-world, engaging PB learning projects, and project management using toolkit resources and a micro-credential available through Project Management Institute Educational Foundation that is partnering with ESSDACK. Participants will be presented an overview of project management as well as quickly experience the "Taco Challenge" activity that is available in the online toolkit in which the teacher training at ESSDACK helps teachers learn how to better facilitate the process.

Mountain-Plains Business Education Association

Greetings from Mountain-Plains Business Education! (A region of the National Business Education Association)

I am Lori Henneberg, your Kansas representative. It is my task to keep Kansas business educators aware and informed about the happenings within our vital organization. NBEA (M-PBEA) is an organization specifically for you! Professional development opportunities directly related to your content area is one of the biggest benefits of being a member of our organization.

I would like to encourage and invite you to join your national organization for Business Education.

By joining NBEA you automatically become part of M-PBEA—Mountain-Plains Business Education Association. M-PBEA is comprised of the following states and provinces: Colorado, Kansas, Manitoba, Nebraska, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Saskatchewan, South Dakota, Texas, and Wyoming. It is a two-for-one membership-- M-PBEA and NBEA.

The NBEA 2018 Convention will be held in Baltimore, MD March 27-31, 2018. This event is the largest convention solely dedicated to the advancement of business education. Information for the convention can be found at www.nbea.org.

The M-PBEA 2018 Convention will be held in Omaha, NE, June 10-13, 2018. This convention, like the NBEA convention, is solely dedicated to professional development for business educators like you and will be held in a location that is convenient for all of us in KBEA to drive to.

Did you know that Perkins funds can pay to send you to these professional development opportunities?

NBEA is committed to the advancement of the professional interest and competence of its members and provides programs and services that enhance members' professional growth and development. Further, NBEA serves as a unifying agency among other groups dedicated to advancing and improving business education.

Take a minute today and complete your membership form online at www.nbea.org. This will be the best investment that you can make in your career!

As you take time to renew professional memberships, consider the National Business Education Association. With the evolving changes occurring in today's business education curriculum, it is so important to stay connected to business education through your professional membership in the National Business Education Association. By renewing your NBEA professional membership today, you will continue to receive 12 months of membership benefits:

- Professional liability insurance of $250,000 at no additional cost
- Excellent publications (Business Education Forum, NBEA Yearbook, Keying In Newsletter)
- Savings on a variety of professional publications, curriculum standards, educational resources and promotional items (available at www.nbea.org)
- Legislative network and social networking (Facebook, Twitter, Ning) plus webinars
- Regional association membership --- Mountain-Plains Business Education Association
- Professional development opportunities
- NBEA membership dues are $85—a wise investment in your profession! Plus, you receive two memberships—national (NBEA) and regional (M-PBEA) for one price.

Please use the form to submit your membership dues or renew online at www.nbea.org. Your continued NBEA membership will benefit not only you and your students, it also helps keep our business education associations strong! If you have submitted your dues, THANK YOU!

Sharing Resources
by Angela Yarbrough, NE Director

I personally don't think you can ever have too many online resources to use in the classroom. I might not use these sources every day but it's nice to have a good collection around in case you need to get some new ideas. I know there are a lot of websites available for teachers and I'm not trying to promote only a few sources but for the sake of not having several pages to read through, I'm going to list a few sites I've used before in my classroom. I love sharing resources with other teachers and I hope everybody can find some information to use in their own classrooms!

2017-18 Slate of Officers

M-PBEA REPRESENTATIVE

Lori Henneberg is the Technology Instructional Coach at Holy Trinity Catholic School in Lenexa, Kansas. During her teaching career, she has had the privilege of teaching Business/Technology courses for Holy Trinity Lenexa, USD 223 (Hanover), USD 383 (Manhattan), USD 457 (Garden City), Manhattan Area Technical College, and Cloud County Community College. In her “spare time” she enjoys long walks, the beach, biking, spending time with her husband and family, and reading non-fiction books. Lori has been a member of NBEA since 2007 and looks forward each year to the convention and quality business education professional development opportunities provided by this organization.

SOUTHWEST DIRECTOR

My name is Kristin Salazar and I have been teaching in the Goddard School District for the past 19 years. I am currently teaching at Eisenhower High School. I teach a variety of classes from computer applications, graphic design, database applications and the Computer Science Principles course through PLTW (Project Lead the Way). Along with teaching responsibilities, I am the BPA sponsor, Junior Class/Prom Sponsor, Department Head, Go-Grad Instructor and an assistant track and field coach – working with the throwers. Outside of school, I enjoy spending time with my family: husband Chris and children Landon (8), Mykah (6) and Braxton (5) whether it be playing soccer on the weekends or baseball/softball during the summer. I also officiate volleyball in the Wichita area.

SECRETARY

Michael Mosely is a business teacher at Valley Center High School, USD 262, and is seeking re-election as the KBEA secretary.

KBT EDITOR

Phyllis Wilson is the business teacher at Anderson County High School in Garnett, and the FBLA adviser. She is seeking to renew her position on the board as editor.

TREASURER

Megan Thomas is beginning her 6th year at Marion High School. This is her 11th year of teaching. Megan teaches Accounting 1 and 2, Applied Business Development, Personal Finance, Graphic Design, Project Management, and Yearbook. She and her husband, Joel, have two children, Rylee (7) and Clayton (4). They enjoy being involved in the kids' activities including junior rodeos, baseball, softball and gymnastics. Megan would like to be a part of the KBEA board to help give back to an organization that helps business teachers network and learn.

WEBMASTER

Travisray Salyers is a first year teacher at Santa Fe Trail High School in Carbondale, Kansas, where he teaches Business, is the head adviser for FBLA and Yearbook.

Travisray graduated from Emporia State University in May of 2017 with a Bachelor of Science in Education. While at ESU, he was highly involved in organizations in the Teachers College & School of Business. Most notably, president all four years for Phi Beta Lambda (collegiate division of FBLA) and Pi Omega Pi (business education honors organization) as well as a student member of KBEA.

"I would like to be the webmaster for KBEA because I enjoy working on websites, want to get involved on a higher level and have prior experience in web design for the School of Business at ESU and for Kansas PBL. It would be a great opportunity for me to connect with business educators across the state outside of my connections with FBLA.
